REFRIGERATED FREIGHT IN SCOTTISH STORM. Scottish trainmen didn't have to worry about perishable cargo aboard this freight train. It spent three days under a snow pile after crashing into a snow drift near the station at Lairg, Scotland. It took the combined efforts of a big snow plow, 60 men and three locomotives before the well-refrigerated train could be dug out and sent on its way. The stationmaster's son made this view of the buried freight after some of the snow had been cleared off.

Chinese Reds Take Second Chiang Island

Nationalists Abandon Nanchishan Without Struggle, Aid by U.S.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China today abandoned tiny Nanchishan to the Chinese Reds, giving the Communists another bloodless victory in their civil war.

The Defense Ministry said the evacuation was carried out without U.S. assistance and with no interference by the Reds.

The ministry refused to divulge the number of troops involved, but the garrison of regulars and guerrillas total perhaps 5,000.

A ministry spokesman said the island's fortifications were blown up before the withdrawal and all supplies and equipment were brought to Formosa.

Island Cleared

The entire civilian population, a little more than 2,000, chose to leave rather than come under Red rule, the spokesman told a news conference. All arrived safely in Formosa.

"Not a single person remained behind," he said.

Nationalist spokesmen insisted right up to the end that Nanchishan would be defended.

The operation began at 7 p.m Wednesday and ended at noon today. Nationalist warplanes flew a protective umbrella over the convoy to Keelung harbor.

Nanchishan, 140 miles north of Formosa and 23 miles off the Red mainland, was the northern anchor of Chiang Kai-shek's chain of offshore island outposts.

Its loss followed by less than three weeks the evacuation of the Tachen Islands, 200 miles north of Formosa. The Tachens were surrendered without a fight after the Reds stormed and captured Yikiangshan, eight miles to the north.

Matsu Now Front Line

The evacuation of Nanchishan rolled the civil war front southward to the Matsu complex, 100 miles northwest of Formosa and about 20 miles off the mainland. Besides the Matsus, the Nationalists hold only Quemoy Island outside the U.S.-protected Formosa defense zone, which includes Formosa and the nearby Pescadores.

The Matsus are opposite a Red port, Foochow, just as Quemoy is off Amoy, another Red port.

The Nationalists decided to abandon three-square-mile Nanchishan because of U.S. refusal to aid in its defense.

The Communists were expected to move into the island quickly just as they did the Tachens after those islands were evacuated with U.S. 7th Fleet assistance.

Strategic Radar Post

In the view of Washington officials, Nanchishan had strategic value to the Nationalists as a radar post from which to watch Red air and sea movements along the coast. It has considerable psychological value to the Reds as a place to be exploited as evidence of Communist invincibility in the Far East.

Even while pulling out of Nanchishan, the Nationalists maintained the tempo of their air strikes in the area.

Official reports said Nationalist warplanes last night sank four Communist vessels between Nanchishan and the Tachens. Other planes bombed Red-held Peilungshan, 12½ miles north of anchishan.

Col. Hsiung Eng-teh, Defense Ministry spokesman, told the news conference the evacuation of Nanchishan was planned at the same time as the Tachen pullout. The plan was kept secret, he said, for security reasons.

That brought some blunt ques-

Secret Five-Power Disarmament Talks Reopened in London

LONDON (AP)—Secret disarmament talks began among representatives of the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Canada in an atmosphere of pessimism today.

Hopes of an agreement were dampened by the Moscow radio's recent charge that the Western powers have already made the work of the parley ineffectual.

The five nations form a subcommittee of the United Nations Disarmament Commission. Previous talks ended in a stalemate last June.

At Conference Table

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., the chief U.S. delegate, was flanked at the conference table by Britain's Anthony Nutting, the chairman; and Norman Robertson, Canadian high commissioner in London.

Opposite, sat Russia's Andrei Gromyko and Jules Moch of France.

Nutting told the opening session at historic Lancaster House:

"All mankind will agree that there is no hope of attaining real and lasting peace without real all around disarmament. It is in this spirit that my government and I feel sure all our governments approach this renewed attempt to seek an agreement."

The British delegate declared that in the H-bomb age "none of us must spare one ounce of effort in the fulfillment of this trust."

Begin Secret Talks

Immediately after the opening ceremony, discussions began in secret.

The Western powers have made known that they intend to counter Russia's Feb. 18 proposal for abolition of nuclear weapon with an all-round disarmament plan calling upon the U.S.S.R. and Red China to scale down their massive armed forces.

American officials said the United States stood behind the British-French plan for the eventual scrapping of all atomic and hydrogen weapons, but that it tied this in with step-by-step reductions in military manpower as well as conventional weapons.

The U.S. contribution to the program is a blueprint for an international control system with the powers to enforce disarmament measures on both sides of the Iron Curtain. The Russians have bitterly opposed opening their arsenals to outside inspection.

Only Possible Formula

The Western Powers were pictured as agreed that this was the only formula which would allow them to meet the Kremlin's Feb. 18 call for abolition of nuclear weapon stocks.

"For us to throw away our atomic punch without firm agreement on reduction of other armaments," one Western official said, "would expose Europe and Asia to being overwhelmed by the huge Communist armies.

Socialists' Bid To Stop Treaty Approval Fails

Germany's Parliament Kills Second Attempt At Debate Suspension

BONN, Germany (AP)—Parliament today defeated overwhelmingly a new attempt by the Socialist opposition to suspend debate on the Paris treaties to free and rearm West Germany.

It was the second such unsuccessful maneuver by the Socialists since the three-day debate on treaty ratification started yesterday in the Bundestag (lower house).

Saar 'German Territory'

A spokesman for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party told the deputies that the Saar, whose future "European" status under the Paris pacts touched off a rebellion by two parties of the governing coalition, is "German territory."

The spokesman, Otto Lenz, said it was "regrettable that France has linked the Saar agreement with the Paris treaties" But he said nobody had any better solution for determining the future of the Saar. That industrially rich territory, German before World War II, now is virtually autonomous but tied to France economically.

But he emphasized the Saar will have an opportunity to decide its own political future at a plebiscite.

Lenz declared that the Saar government of Premier Johannes Hoffmann has "consistently pursued an anti-German attitude."

Midway Point in Debate

Lenz spoke as the Bundestag reached the midway point of the debate on ratification of the Paris pacts. With the debate running behind schedule, the semifinal vote originally set for today may be postponed until tomorrow. The final vote will be held soon thereafter.

Heavily armed and reinforced police numbering 1,300 braced themselves for another day of street demonstrations by Red agitators shouting anti-American slogans. Hundreds of Communists, including 120 imported from the Ruhr for the occasion, tried to cause trouble at key points yesterday. Police cooled their ardor with water cannon which drenched them during a snowstorm. A dozen were arrested.

Adenauer Rallies Support

Some shop windows were broken before downtown squares were cleared after dark.

As two government coalition parties—the Free Democrats (FDP) and the Refugees (BHE)—defied the Chancellor's stand on the Saar,

Both Sides Hopeful

Outlook Uncertain In House Tax Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hopeful but uncertain claims of victory came from both sides today as the House approached a showdown vote on the Democratic drive to cut income taxes $20 a person next year.

The Democrats, with a 29-vote majority of the House membership, appeared to hold a slim but far from sure margin over all-out opposition from House Republican leaders and President Eisenhower.

Democratic leaders repeated predictions they would win the test, Republican leaders expressed growing confidence they would defeat the tax cut. Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass) said in Philadelphia last night he was "quite confident" of victory.

But other key GOP members said privately they thought they were licked.

Neither Side Certain

Neither side appeared very sure.

Battling to the wire, Martin and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) planned to close the floor argument today.

Democrats conceded they might lose 15 to 20 of their 232 members on the issue, mostly Southerners. Republicans said they would lose 6 to 12 of their 203 members. But mostly it was an old-fashioned, relatively rare party-line scrap with big political chips at stake.

The Democratic bill would provide a $20 tax cut for each taxpayer and each of his dependents—$100 annually for a family of five. It would relieve about five million taxpayers with low incomes or large families from any federal income tax bill.

Drop Scheduled April 1

Democrats made this tax cut part of a package bill which also would continue present corporation income and excise tax rates for one more year.

Under present law the corporation rate is scheduled to drop from 52 to 47 per cent April 1. And on the same date excises are due to drop on automobiles, cigarettes, gasoline, liquor, beer and wine.

Continuing these rates would save almost three billion dollars a

Truce Violation In Korea May Kill Armistice

U.S., Allies Denounce Reds, See Possibility Of Invalidating Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and its Korean War allies eventually may denounce armistice limits on the size of forces because of Communist violations.

The United States has accused the Chinese and North Korean Reds of introducing jet airplanes into North Korea contrary to provisions of the July 1953 cease-fire agreement. Similarly, officials say the Reds have increased their total strength and otherwise violated provisions designed to keep Communist and United Nations forces in about the ratio which existed at the end of the fighting.

To counter this buildup, some officials feel it may be necessary to declare the limitations invalid and meaningless. Presumably that would mean putting into south Korea later types of weapons—particularly jet planes—than those which were there at the end of the war.

Representatives of the United States, South Korea and 15 other nations which fought in Korea met at the State Department late yesterday.

Joint Defense Furthered

SEATO Talks End On Optimistic Note

BANGKOK (AP)—The eight-nation Manila Pact conference ended today on a note of optimism that progress has been made in strengthening the area against aggression.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles told the closing session of the three-day meeting:

"The way of the aggressor has been made harder."

Set Up Committees

Gathered to implement the treaty signed in Manila last September, the delegates established a permanent secretariat in Bangkok and set up committees on military, antisubversion and economic matters to put teeth into the pact.

The eight nations are Pakistan, the Philippines, France, United States, Great Britain, New Zealand, Australia and Thailand.

Dulles told the delegates:

"We have taken decisions which will make the council (of representatives) an effective working party within the three areas dealt with by the pact, namely, defense against open, armed aggression; defense against subversion from without; and promotion of economic and social well-being."

Formosa Policy

In what seemed a reference to the touchy Formosa problem, Dulles said, "We have exchanged opinions about the over-all position in Asia. . . . There has been recognition of the gravity of the danger that confronts us and of the urgency in dealing with it.

"I am confident that sense of urgency will be carried into the work of our permanent representative and of our political, military and economic experts."

Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden discussed Formosa at length last night. Unofficial sources said Eden expressed the belief Red China would not invade Formosa. He is also understood to have urged that the coastal islands of Quemoy and the Matsu complex be abandoned by the Chinese Nationalists.

Independence More Assured

Dulles, honored by the delegates on his 67th birthday today, told the final session, "The independence of the treaty countries and the liberty of the peoples of the treaty area are more assured now than they were before we came. To turn that probability into a certainty will be a continuing task.

"It is one, however, that I am confident will be achieved provided that we retain the spirit which has been manifested by our gathering here."

Dulles offered to share 220 pounds of nuclear fuel with Manila pact members interested in building atomic research reactors.

Local Business Is on Upswing, C. of C. Reports

Increased business activity ahead was predicted today by the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

In the monthly "News Bulletin" it was reported that there are some 500 more persons employed in local industry now than a year ago. In addition to this, two local plants plan to hire 150 additional personnel this week, the article noted.

Decision of the Whirlpool Corp. of St. Joseph, Mich., to buy the local plant of the Motor Products Corp. for use in manufacturing automatic clothes dryers will result in the eventual employment of up to 1,500 more persons.

Orders to local plants are also stepping up which indicates continued improving business factors on the local scene.

There are $58,000,000 in savings and demand deposits in local banks which represents a huge buying power, the article notes.

Taking issue with the "prophets of doom and gloom" who predicted 1954 would be a poor year of business, the Chamber notes that last year's volume of business was a scant two per cent below 1953.

On the basis of these facts, the Chamber advised local businessmen to push sales and service for more jobs and increased business activity in 1955.

Russians Call For Emphasis On Agriculture

Communists Ask Farm Youths To Grow Corn In American Fashion

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist party today called on its youth division to spearhead a vigorous campaign to grow corn in the American style.

This was in line with a speech by party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev last month praising American farming methods, particularly in planting more corn to feed livestock. Failure in the field of agriculture was one of the main reasons cited by Georgi M. Malenkov when he resigned as premier Feb. 8.

The appeal to young farmers was made by the Central Committee of the Young Communist League (Komsomol). It was described by Tass and published in all Soviet newspapers.

Western observers have expressed skepticism over the ability of Soviet agriculture to copy the American system of corn-hog production, due to climatic conditions in this country. The Komsomol ap-

Arab Countries Threaten Iraq With Expulsion

Baghdad Government Forsakes Neutrality in Turkey Defense Pact

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraq took up a post in the Western defense lineup today after signing a mutual defense pact with Turkey. She was the first Arab state to forsake a neutral role in the East-West cold war.

In Cairo, a high government spokesman promptly declared Egypt would call a meeting of all Arab League nations except Iraq and demand the expulsion of the Baghdad government and revision of the league agreement.

If the demand is not heeded, he added, Egypt will either withdraw from the eight-nation group or renounce any commitment to defend Iraq. The Arab League is a collective security alliance. Egypt, generally acknowledged as its leader, has insisted the Arabs should stick to their neutralist position and depend on themselves for defense.

Defying Egyptian threats, Iraqi Premier Nuri Said signed the agreement with Turkey last night after six hours of almost continuous discussions with Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes. Menderes flew here Wednesday for the ceremony.

Turkey is a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Her pact with Iraq is the first to link an Arab state specifically for defense against any Communist aggression in the Middle East.

The other Arab League members are Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Saudi Arabia, Yemen and Libya.

Four-Truck Crash Kills 1, Injures 11 in Florida

BELLE GLADE, Fla. (AP)—Three big tractor-trailer trucks collided 20 miles south of Belle Glade today and a truck carrying 10 farm workers smashed into a line of cars stalled by the first accident.

At least one man was killed and 11 injured.

Police closed Florida 27, a main traffic artery between Miami and the Lake Okeechobee area, because of wreckage.

Consider Supreme Court Nominee

Senators Hear Objectors To Harlan Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate Judiciary Committee members said today they have heard no testimony warranting rejection of Judge John Marshall Harlan's nomination to the Supreme Court.

"I don't believe anyone is making any case against the judge," said Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), who last November described Harlan's nomination as a good one.

"I've heard nothing to disqualify him," Sen. Butler (R-Md) said in a separate interview.

Most testimony at yesterday's committee hearing was favorable to the jurist, with only two witnesses appearing in opposition. But other opponents were waiting their turn.

Key Issue in Assembly

Ohio Senate Hearing Set For School Subsidy Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Senate Education Committee will open hearings next Wednesday on one of the key bills of the 101st General Assembly—a complex measure to revamp the whole system of doling out the state school subsidy.

It could be a make-or-break bill in Republican legislators' efforts to balance what promises to be a record-high two-year budget. Certainly it will be one of the most expensive bills to come out of the Legislature; as it now stands it calls for the spending of some 300 million dollars in state money.

That's nearly one dollar of every three the state has available for spending.

Stems From Study

The big bill is one of the results of a statewide study by the Legislature's School Survey Committee of which Rep. William L. Manahan (R-Defiance) is chairman and Sen. Charles A Mosher (R-Lorain) is vice chairman. Sen. Mosher is chairman of the Senate Committee which will hold first hearings on the measure.

How Program Works

The State of Ohio adopted a generation ago the policy that every Ohio child—no matter where he lives—has the right to a decent education. The theory was that today's school pupil in a financially pinched school district may well be tomorrow's citizen of a wealthy district

The result of the policy was the state's "school foundation program."

In practice, the program has worked out this way: The state has

2 Boys Die, 3rd Hurt In Crash Near Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Two youths were killed early today and another injured in a one-car accident south of nearby Oakwood on Ohio 48.

The state highway patrol said excessive speed was partly responsible for the smashup.

The dead were identified as Roy V. Turner, 20, Rt. 2, Waynesville and Bromleigh Jones, 20, of Dayton YMCA. Both were passengers in the car driven by John W Kearns, 25, of Marysville.

Kearns was taken to Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton. Extent of his injuries was not immediately known.

Design Improved

Second Atom Sub Slated To Be Launched in May

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's second nuclear submarine, the Sea Wolf, probably will be launched within the next two or three months.

The sister of the 3,000-ton Nautilus—but with improvements in design and an atomic engine of different type—has been building since June 1953.

On the basis of time required for building the first hull, the Sea Wolf apparently will be scheduled to go down the ways at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. at Groton, Conn. sometime in May.

If the Nautilus pattern is followed, the Sea Wolf will have when launched the framework and some other components — although not the fuel load—of the atomic furnace.

A land-based model of the Sea Wolf's engine was started at West Milton, N.Y., in 1953 by the General Electric Co., under contract with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Presumably that test plant—a copy of the one that will be installed in the Sea Wolf—is about ready for trials, if not actually in operation. The AEC and Navy declined today to say.

The nuclear power plant in the Nautilus, built by Westinghouse Electric Corp., and that for the Sea Wolf are of different types.

The AEC and Navy decided, at the outset of the nuclear submarine program, to build both types and then decide which design was the more efficient and easier operating. The Nautilus has been under trial since last month. The Sea Wolf probably will not be ready until sometime in the spring of 1956.

Assemblymen Visit Cleveland State Hospital

Tour, Hearing Follow Request for $6 Million To Improve Facilities

CLEVELAND (AP) — After tramping through dingy green corridors of 100-year-old buildings at the Cleveland State Hospital, state represeniatives say the entire Ohio Legislature should have made the same tour.

That would limit lawmakers' debate on the problem of mental health in Ohio, Rep. James L. McGettrick (D-Cleveland), said yesterday.

He and other members of the Ohio House Public Welfare Committee went through the institution in suburban Garfield Heights and later held a public hearing in the hospital's medical library.

The group, in some cases, had to step over the legs of patients sitting on floors in the hospital's halls.

Rep. Eugene J. Sawicki termed the experience "gruesome," and added:

"I've been here before, but it gets you every time. Too bad the rest of the people in the General Assembly aren't here."

The tour and the public hearing were held after recent introduction in the Legislature by McGettrick of a bill to provide the hospital with six million dollars.

"I believe that if every member of the Legislature made this tour and saw what we have seen today, we would have no difficulty with any bill to improve Ohio's mental health program. No selling would be needed," McGettrick declared.

Leading the group was Dr. William L. Grover, superintendent of the hospital, who said at the hearing that the institution held 2,700 patients in buildings the American Psychiatric Assn. declared should hold 1,500 patients.

Dr. Grover said there were eight nurses at the hospital, and 185 needed.

Dr. Lowell O. Dillon of Columbus, commissioner of mental hygiene, told the lawmakers:

"I know that we could duplicate this situation here in practically any of the institutions in Ohio except the receiving hospitals. The problem is state-wide."

The visit by the 19-member committee, headed by Rep. Harry Corkwell of Putnam County, followed a similar tour by a number of state senators and came after Gov. Frank J. Lausche requested a 140 million dollar appropriation to combat mental illness in Ohio.

WRONG DATE

OMAHA (AP)—A lady said she got a traffic ticket ordering her to appear in court Feb. 30. She asked what she should do. City Prosecutor Charles Fryzek suggested the date be amended to March 2 but Traffc Judge Frank Nimtz said: "If she doesn't come in there is nothing we can do. There is no such date."

Bible Words for Today

PROVERBS 15:27—"He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house." (American Revised Version)

• • •

Man seems never to have enough of any material substance which he finds useful or which strikes his fancy. He has enough only when he has a little bit more than he now has. The desire to meet one's own reasonable needs and the needs of loved ones dependent upon him is legitimate. But this desire easily turns into a love of things for their own sake or for the sake of mere possession or, worse still, for the sake of control over the lives of others which wealth brings. Even a desire to be the generous prince or the lady bountiful can subtly lead to greed and covetousness. And no greedy, covetous man is happy, for "man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions."

Motorists Pick Up Cash Scattered by 2 Bandits

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Pursued by police after a holdup in Niles that netted $500 to $600, two men tossed several hundred dollars in small bills from their speeding pickup truck yesterday.

The patrolmen caught the fleeing pair, but now police say they are looking for motorists who stopped their cars, grabbed up the cash and drove off.

Police identified the pair as Arthur McCan, 27, of Youngstown, and John W. Blair, 26, of Niles, both held on an open charge.

Liquor Control Tighter in '54, Bryant Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—William C. Bryant, state liquor director, said today "liquor enforcement activities during 1954 noticeably increased over those of 1953 in nearly all phases due to tightened enforcement methods."

The director praised Enforcement Chief Edward J. Allen and his staff for "their fine work record . . . especially since it was attained with no increase in enforcement personnel."

Bryant said a total of 1,134 permit holders were cited for liquor law violations during 1954, a 14 per cent increase over the 1953 total of 977. From 679 raids last year by enforcement investigators, 974 arrests of permit holders and bootleggers were recorded, resulting in 970 convictions. Courts levied fines totaling $95,406 and meted out 8,082 days of imprisonment.

Allen said he believed the tightened enforcement in 1954 was due to a more complete, detailed and accurate system of reporting and general tightening of disciplinary measures in the enforcement districts.

When To Cut Taxes

Fast footwork and perhaps a good bit of stiff infighting are in prospect in the next few weeks as Congress moves to beat an April 1 deadline for postponing reductions now scheduled in excise and corporation income tax rates.

Democrats appear generally willing to go along with President Eisenhower's request to retain federal excise taxes at present rates to another year, also to postpone for a year a slated reduction in the corporation income tax rate from 52 per cent to 47 per cent.

The House Ways and Means Committee has cleared the deck for quick action on the President's requests by deciding not even to hold hearings on them.

But the President in his economic report of Jan. 20 held out hope for a general tax cut in 1956, and therein lies the rub for the Democrats.

Some Democrats naturally fear that a general tax reduction in 1956 — especially in individual income tax rates — would provide an election-year asset for the Republicans. On the other hand, they reason, if a Democratic-controlled Congress should vote individual income tax relief in 1955, Democrats would benefit at the polls in 1956.

The House at the 1954 session defeated by a narrow margin — 210 to 204 — a Democratic motion to recommit the general tax revision bill with instructions to strike out provisions easng the tax on dividends.

The Democratic motion would have substituted a $100 increase in the personal income tax exemption. Senate Democrats did succeed in lowering dividend tax relief, but failed to increase the personal exemption.

A decrease in individual income taxes doubtless would be very popular, but there is grave doubt whether it is justified at this time or even next year in the light of defense spending.

It is hoped that when the time comes to lighten the burden, the move will be dictated by sound financial procedures and not motivated solely by political expediency.

Ban the A-Bomb?

The Soviet Union is up to its old tricks and the West is not likely to be taken in by its latest declaration for unconditional prohibition of atomic and hydrogen bombs and a general freezing of armaments.

If Russia could back up its proposal with a record of good faith and sincerity in international relations, the free nations of the world undoubtedly would welcome such a peaceful gesture.

But honesty is not on the side of the Russians and their latest bid differs only slightly from others flatly rejected by the West.

The Reds have never been able to convince even the United Nations that it would abide by its own recommendations.

They have shown a spirit of cooperation on every point up to the issue of inspection. When they are confronted with the demand for international control through on-the-spot observation, they suddenly chill and dash off in another direction.

Their newest declaration makes a pass at "establishing proper international control" but the sleeper is their definition of the word "proper." It is more likely to mean, as even they have hinted, "a solemn pledge," which in the case of Russia, means something less than an iron-clad guarantee.

No one relishes the prospect of an atomic war. It is a kind of war that could not be won by any nation and its probable consequence would be a crippling blow to civilization itself.

Hence, any suggestion by the Soviet that atomic bombs should be destroyed and banned must be viewed soberly on the off-chance that it could lead to greater stability in the world.

A more likely reaction, however, is one that the Russians are not as well prepared for atomic warfare as they have led the West to believe.

United States certainly would be the last to advocate use of atomic weapons, but it is not easy to overlook reasonably well-substantiated evidence that our stockpile of A-bombs and H-bombs have been an effective restraining influence on Russia, and that without these implements of war we might not be at peace today.

Whose Best Friend?

Science has found a way to make diamonds just as nature has made them, a General Electric research laboratory announced recently.

The first man-made diamonds are of a size and quality suitable only for industrial use and cost approximately twice the market price of those made by nature.

But give the scientist time. If he can make a diamond for industrial use, he can and will make a diamond that will sparkle beautifully on milady's finger.

What's more—and here's the pity of it all—he ultimately might be able to make diamonds at a cost much lower than even nature can produce them. Mass production, you know.

But what a tragedy that would be!

Who wants inexpensive diamonds? Why the ladies would gasp at the thought.

Diamonds can be a girl's best friend only as long as they have value—real, intrinsic, blue-white value.

So even if the scientists have the know-how to make them inexpensive, who says the ladies will let them do it?

Penalty for Enterprise

By David Lawrence

Free Press Crippled by Kansas City Star Case

Regulation and control of the press, despite the protection supposed to be afforded by the Bill of Rights in the Constitution, has been brought one step nearer to consummation in America by the decision in the case of The Kansas City Star. A jury obedient to the highly prejudiced instructions of a federal judge now has convicted that newspaper of violating the anti-trust laws.

There are some 180 cities in the United States where a single newspaper ownership exists and where conceivably a politically minded administration can do what the Truman regime did in an attempt to wreak vengeance on The Kansas City Star for its crusade against the Pendergast machine of the Democratic party and its vote-getting frauds in that area.

Harry Truman, as senator, helped to bring about the appointment of the judge in the case over the objection of Roosevelt's attorney general — Francis Biddle —who questioned his fitness for the bench. The Star, by its vigorous crusade against the political henchmen of Truman, earned the latter's enmity.

THE CASE WAS instituted by the Truman administration. The Eisenhower administration was unable to quash it, as the matter was already in the courts, and there would have been a cry of political influence in the opposite direction if the case had been dropped.

It is obvious that a criminal trial before a jury in such a highly complicated and technical affair as an anti-trust charge can hardly resolve the issues for the guidance even of the defendant if convicted. All a jury decides is whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty. It files no explanation or legal opinion.

There is also a civil suit pending against The Kansas City Star which has not yet been tried. Here a judicial opinion by a lower court and perhaps by the Supreme Court will be available for examination.

There have been two somewhat similar cases heretofore — one against a newspaper in Lorain, Ohio, which lost the suit, and one against a newspaper at New Orleans, which won its case. Some basic issues have been raised in these cases, but they are not identical with the charges filed in the Kansas City cases.

What is involved fundamentally is the right of a newspaper to set a selling price of its own for the editions it sells to the subscriber. In Kansas City, the evening, the morning and the Sunday editions are regarded by the Star's ownership as a single newspaper, and the rate is so low that the combination price is a bargain compared to that of similar - sized newspapers in other cities.

SHALL IT BE the law that a seller of services involving products of the mind, such as news gathering, cannot set his own fee for that sale? If he cannot, then is some government commission to fix the price, as it does electric light and power rates? If this is done, can it be said that the governmental body will not strive also to regulate either the quantity or the quality of the contents of a newspaper and the price to be charged?

Then there is the matter of advertising rates. The Kansas City Star considers it is selling a single product in its around - the - clock service each day and, for reasons of economy, feels it can serve the advertiser best at a relatively low rate that gives the advertiser coverage in all the editions each day rather than in any one edition. The right of a newspaper publisher to decide what he shall charge for one segment of a newspaper's content is as inviolate as the right of any seller of a patented article to do so.

THE ISSUE RAISED here is whether, if the price is too low, it hurts a competitor, and whether it is then lawful to charge such a low price? Since when is a seller of goods to be penalized because he gives the public a lower price than a similar product is sold for in another city? Yet that's the charge made against The Kansas City Star.

It has been alleged that The Star thus has defeated competition. Is it a crime to win out in a competitive battle, and must an inefficient competitor be kept in business and the prices of a subscription or an advertising page held high so that the competitor will not be injured? That's one way, to be sure, of controlling the press.

Now, no newspaper which also owns a radio or television station has a right to penalize any prospective advertiser and compel him to use all his media or to give a discount to the users of all three. For this would be a tie-in there were some instances of this in the early days, there are none known now, and, if any are discovered, they should be examined under the anti-trust laws.

THE DEPARTMENT of Justice has sought in its civil suit to force the separation of the newspaper-publishing property in Kansas City from its television and radio station. This is supposed to be the job of the Federal Communications Commission, which can issue or revoke licenses if there's monopoly.

It so happens that there are several competing radio and television stations in Kansas City and The Star pioneered when TV was introduced. Now there appears to be an effort to impose a penalty for the enterprise and foresight shown by The Star.

The whole controversy will doubtless have to be finally settled in the Supreme Court of the United States, and it will be interesting to see how far the New Deal and Fair Deal philosophy is going to be accepted or rejected in what appears as a palpable effort to rewrite the Constitution without the participation of the Congress or the people.

Conservatism in Colleges

By Raymond Moley

For those who in recent years, have said to me that 'red radicalism is rampant among the students of American colleges I have had a stock answer. "In a few years, we will have the opposite."

Student opinion is like Chicago weather. Wait a while and we will get something else. Only in Chicago, weather changes are a matter of hours. College opinion is a matter of a couple of decades.

In 1914 when I was first a student at Columbia the faculty was notably conservative. Among the students and younger teachers there was a turn to the left. Just to show the miracles wrought by time I would record that notable young radical like Morrie Ryskind and George Sokolsky were tossed out for their opinions about that time.

THERE ARE TWO quite obvious explanations for this process of change. The one is that the younger people are less securely anchored in their opinions and are seeking to improve the chronic illnesses that always beset mankind. They turn from the established order to something else.

The other reason is the eternal spirit of revolt by the young against the old. Just as in nature everywhere, new growths are destroying old students' revolts against their teachers and young professors write books to upset the books written by their elders.

And so in the course of the period from 1914 to 1954 the established order in academic life changed from conservative to radical. The old fellows now are mostly to the left and some of them are very tired radicals. Something new is in demand and the new is different in quality. To conform is to be radical to be a non-conformist is to be conservative.

THE CHANGE is very notable in British universities. Over there the two forces are operating with a third one added. Those students are old enough to remember the old tired bunch of pinks who constituted the Labor government of 1945-1951.

They know something of the messy austerity that accompanied this great trial of socialism. Thus to the British student, socialism is not pie in the sky, it is the crust of a pie that has been tasted and was sour.

In the United States new conservative clubs are springing up. It is getting to be respectable to be a conservative.

A notable event happened recently. There was elected as president of the Whig-Cliosophic Society, at Princeton a young man named Bruce Akers of Cleveland. This society, it is claimed, is the oldest college debating and literary club in the world. James Madison and Philip Freneau were members in the 18th century. Woodrow Wilson was a member. It is a distinguished honor that has come to this young Akers and he is a genuine conservative by conviction and training.

This budding conservative movement in the colleges should be wisely grounded upon real principle. There is just as much danger in some conservative suggestions these days as there was a few years ago among liberals.

In other words any movement is sooner or later the victim of the lunatic fringe and that fringe exists on each end of the ideological spectrum, the right as well as the left.

Policy Makers Have No Time for Trifles

By David Barnett

The men sat down at 1 a.m. around a long table in the Cabinet room of the White House. The question before the group was: Should the United States fight if the Chinese Communists attack the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

It has been reported that the men agreed unanimously that the country should fight. But there is no way to confirm this agreement, for these men are members of the most hush-hush of the President's staff groups, the National Security Council.

The NSC was set up by Congress in 1947 "to advise the President with respect to the integration of domestic, foreign, and military policies relating to the national security so as to enable the military services and other departments and agencies of the government to cooperate more effectively in matters involving the national security."

UNDER THE LAW, members of the council are President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Secretary Dulles, Secretary Wilson, Foreign Operations Administrator Stassen and the director of defense mobilization, Arthur S. Flemming.

To these, the President has added Treasury Secretary Humphrey, Budget Director Hughes, Adm. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; President Assistant Nelson Rockefeller; Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Usually the NSC meets on Thursday morning. Each member has "working papers" on the matters up for discussion. These "papers" are prepared by the planning board, a group of departmental assistant - secretaries, headed by Robert Cutler, a Boston banker.

THESE "WORKING PAPERS" —always marked "top secret"— provide statements of basic considerations, desired objectives, recommended courses of action (often more than one), estimated cost of the recommendations and documentation.

Cutler, whose official title is special assistant to the President for national security affairs, presides over the council. During a typical meeting, the members will first get an Intelligence summary from Allen Dulles.

Then the official whose agency is most concerned with the problem being discussed will be asked for his views. Each member is of equal status during the ensuing debate. The final decision, of course, is made by the President.

The meetings usually break up shortly after 1 p.m.

Then Cutler and his staff put the decision and the study into a single document, the President signs it and the country has a new policy.

THE NSC HAS NO power except through the president. The basic study of a serious problem — the NSC does not concern itself with two-bit problems — is done by the planning board. The best minds in the government, the council members, discuss it. Nothing concrete can happen until the president decides, on the basis of the study and the discussion, what course to take.

Once that decision is made, another of the relatively new coordinating bodies takes over to make sure the new policy is implemented. That group, set up in September, 1953, is the Operations Coordinating Board, headed b Herbert Hoover Jr., the undersecretary of state.

New Cold 'Bugs' Discovered

By THOMAS R. HENRY

Six new ultramicroscopic, disease-causing viruses have been found by United States Public Health Service scientists.

They are believed responsible for a great amount of hitherto undiagnosed, or falsely diagnosed illness. Most notable malady partially traced to one of them is a type of pneumonia which has been quite prevalent in Army camps.

All these "bugs" affect the respiratory system and have been found to cause conditions recorded as catarrh, grippe, conjunctivitis, and summer cold. One group may play a primary tole in tonsilities and infections of the adenoids.

The Public Health scientists said that all are filterable viruses — in the same class as the agents causing polio and a host of highly fatal maladies. They are so small that they cannot be seen with the most powerful optical microscope.

Outside a body cell, the viruses act as if they lacked life, but inside they show ability to multiply very rapidly.

The Public Health findings showed that the "bugs," called APC agents, produce antigens in the blood which to some extent protect the body against future attacks. Although their existence has just been learned, almost everybody has been infected with one or more of them, according to a report by Drs. Robert J. Heubner and Wallace P. Rowe of the Public Health Service and Thomas G. Ward of Johns Hopkins.

The scientists said that a survey in one large city, for example, indicated that half the infants under one year had been infected with at least one APC type. Under the age of 15 the average person has suffered from two or more types and most persons of 35 have had infections from at least four.

Each virus type causes a different set of symptoms, the doctors went on. One has been recovered in persons with grippe-like symptoms while five apparently play different parts in chronic diseases of tonsils and adenoids.

During the past year, one investigation showed that the viruses were present in 77 per cent of recruits in one company at Fort Dix, N.J. About a quarter of the infected men developed illnesses severe enough to require hospital treatment. Half developed very mild or inapparent illnesses.

According to the scientists, pneumonia virus apparently strikes at all seasons, and usually during the middle years. It appears to be very rare in children and old people.

It is believed to be the explanation for a condition commonly encountered by Army doctors durin the last war which was desig-nated as febrile catarrh or merely as "acute respiratory disease of recruits."

Other viruses in the group are blamed for the condition known as "summer sore throat." Two have been designated as "adenoid degeneration" viruses.

While all are described as serious, none appears to cause fatalities or prolonged illnesses. A peculiarity of the APC viruses, however, is their tendency to transmute into new forms more often than are other disease-causing agents. Some of these forms, the doctors believe, suddenly may become extremely virulent.

Our Own Market Advice

Q—A friend advises me to get aboard General Dynamics because of its discovery of a process for making genuine diamonds. Would you recommend this?—P. K. M.

A—It is not General Dynamics, but another corporation that is making diamonds, but the way things are going it might not make much difference. We advise caution. Wait for some company to make lapis lazuli.

Q—I still have Chrysler bought at 102 and some American Tobacco bought in the seventies. Why do people say that stocks are the highest in 25 years?—Joe.

A—You should have quit when you were ahead. Always remember that neither company mentioned is hunting for uranium.

Q—I have been holding a well-known stock for almost three weeks and there is no splitup yet. Even the rumors of a split have been weak. Do you advise patience?—Ella K.

A—No stock that hasn't been split twice in seven weeks amounts to much. Sorry you weren't told.

Q—I like the rails. My wife likes the oils. My neighbors like utilities. My broker likes chemicals. My oldest son likes stud poker. What do you like?—Mike H.

A—I'll take a cigar this time.

Q—Is it true Bethlehem Steel has found a way to make genuine sapphires for chain-stores?—A mother.

A—We think you are confusing Bethlehem with Union Pacific. Or maybe you have got sapphires mixed up with ingots. On the other hand, maybe both of us are thinking of Standard Oil of Ohio.

Q—I am a little girl eight years old. Some of my friends tell me there is no General Motors. Papa says, if you see it in the stock tables it's so. Tell me the truth.—Virginia.

A—Your little friends are wrong. But if they brought it a year ago in the forties it makes no difference. Yes, there is a General Motors. Not believe in GM! You might as well not believe in traffic congestion. Your friends may never have bought any, or sold short, but that is no proof that GM is not there. Personally we like General Electric.

Q—I am deeply puzzled over what to do in this market. I can't decide if stocks are too high, too low, or just about right. In my confusion I consulted a broker. Now my confusion is at a new high for the movement. What should I do—K. C. C.

A—Hold your confusion for the long pull or else never ask a broker to give a positive and clarifying opinion. You might take more aspirin, common or preferred.

Q—I am loaded with uranium stocks since I get more fun putting pennies into them than into parking meters. Am I doing right by my heirs?—Jake.

A—Well, after all, you can't leave 15 minutes parking time in your estate.

The Seminole Indian tribe was admitted to the Hialeah races the other day. . . They returned to camp wondering more than ever about the claim that the white man is more civilized.

Russia has an ice-skating champion. . . Well, after all, didn't the Russians discover ice?

The Senate probé of the stock market begins next week with A. Keith Funston on the stand and ends March 23 with Bernard Baruch. . . This proves the probers know little about showmanship. . . They should start things off with Mr. Baruch who can give better horse sense answers to the senators than they'll ever get from any other witness.

Both Underdogs

Prexies, St. Mary Prepared For Cage Struggles on Road

S. Mary and Harding are underdogs in court action tonight which will take them to enemy hardwoods

The Irish take on rugged Columbus St Mary crew in exempted-parochial tournament play at Westerville while Coach Jim Lawler's Prexies oppose an up and down Sandusky Blue Streak quintet in a Buckeye Conference tilt which closes the books on their regular season

Columbus lanky squad is 20 1 for the season and was ranked third among Ohio Class B cage machines in the latest Associated Press poll Sandusky shows an 8-7 record against top-flight competition and whipped a highly-rated Mansfield quintet during the season

St Mary s tilt with Columbus St Mary is scheduled as the third contest on tonight's program at Otterbein gymnasium and is slated to get under way at 9 30 p m All three winners tonight will advance to district play at either Otterbein or Capital

The Irish take a 14-6 card into tonight's contest They sport five straight wins and have not been beaten in exempted-parochial play which was started in the 1951-52 campaign St Mary's mark in pretest play is 4-0 and they have qualified for district play the past three years with wins in exempted-parochial play.

Harding's 6-13 for the year will be seeking its second straight win and second in Buckeye Conference play against Sandusky tonight The Prexies downed Fremont 79-65 last Friday for their first conference win after pevious losses to Loram and Findlay Sandusky is 1-3 in league competition with a win over Elyria 50-43 and losses to Lorain 70-57, Findlay 47-42 and Fremont 66-51.

Columbus St Mary s offense is led by two 6 3 junior cagers, Bill Stewart and Dave Barker who are both averaging 20 points plus a game Barker has 435 and Stewart 434 Al Buccilla is the Columbus squad s third threat with 213 markers

Paul Fischer a 6-3 senior who teams with Barker at forward, and Kermit Allen a 5 8 junior are other starters of Coach Ken Neville

Lone loss on the Columbus team's record is a 56 40 defeat at the hands of a tough Newark St Francis quintet recently It whipped a good Granville squad 55-49 Wednesday night to advance to the finals

Tom Murray and Pat Gallagher a pair of pint sized guards, are Sandusky's scoring leaders with 16 and 13 point game averages respectively and Bucky Laird a 6-1 senior is a strong rebounder Gene Miller at 6 5 gives the Blue Streaks height at center

Sandusky s season slate shows wins over Mansfield as well as a rugged Ashtabula squad 66 63, Fostoria 74-57 Elyria Norwalk, Port Clinton Willard 62-42 and Bellevue and losses to Toledo Libbey 79 55 Lima Central 70-53, Cleveland West Findlay Tiffin Columbian, Lorain and Fremont

Iowa and Wolves Clash in TV Game

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Ron Kramer is only a Michigan sophomore but he has earned a large measure of greatness by Iowa athletic standards

Last October the 210 pound Kramer as an end caught a 29 yard touchdown pass and kicked the deciding exrta points as the Wolverines upset Iowa, 14-13 in football

Tomorrow afternoon the Iowa basketball team will get its look at the versatile Kramer

A share of first place in the Big Ten Conference rests on the outcome An Iowa victory would put the Hawkeyes even with Minnesota at 10-2 going into their title game at Minneapolis Monday night Although Michigan has had only average success in the conference—four triumphs in 10 starts —Iowa cannot afford to think past this game

It is the Hawkeyes' last home game of the season and their third appearance on the Big Ten s basketball television series (CBS)

Game time is 3 p m (EST).

Appeals Court Issues Rulings In Local Cases

The Third District Court of Appeals in Lima today refused to issue a writ of mandamus compelling Arthur L Watt, county recorder to issue a registration certificate on a parcel of land in Marion

Edgar W Barnhart of 514 King Ave had asked for the writ The Appeals Court ruled that Watt was within his rights in refusing to register the land or issue a duplicate certificate to Barnhart Because of the nature of the law the case was taken directly to the Appeals Court without passing through the Common Pleas Court first

In another ruling this morning the court said that an appeal of the case of Sadie McDowell, now deceased vs Orlando McDowell of Hinton W Va and George Hazen Quinn of Detroit will be considered only on questions of law

The case deals with ownership of a piece of property at 680 N Main St and has been pending before the Court of Appeals since last May Orlando McDowell had appealed a Common Pleas Court decision which gave the property to Quinn raising questions of both law and fact

Reports Due Soon On Petitions for Cattle Testing Unit

The Agricultural Extension Service is awaiting reports from several field workers on the progress being made in obtaining petitions treated and released The accident bile-Testing Unit to Marion County

The Mobile Unit is designed to discover brucellosis in dairy herds through samples of milk from the herds In order to qualify for its use here, at least 51 per cent of the cattle owners in the county representing 75 per cent of the cattle must sign the petitions now being circulated

Ellwood Parrott, extension agent reported this morning that petitions have been received from many townships showing that owners of more than 75 per cent of the cows have been signed up, but additional signatures are needed to comply with the 51 per cent clause Parrott said one township has failed to make any report and incomplete reports have been received from three others

If the petitions are not returned by March 1, dairy owners in the county will face the possibility of having to have their herds blood-tested to comply with city health department regulations Health department officials have agreed to grant a 60 day extension on the March 1 deadline for testing if enough petitions are signed by that time

Educators, Legislators Attack Bill

Ike's Aid to Schools Plan Under Fire

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's school aid plan, 17 days after he offered it to Congress, already looks like a wreck.

He produced it Feb. 8. He said 30,000 classrooms are needed and unless the federal government helps the states, the emergency will continue.

He suggested a three-year plan under which the government would give states and local communities 200 million dollars as a gift and 920 millions in loans.

In Congress, Democrats and some Republicans jumped on the plan. So did one educator after another. Summed up, this was the criticism:

The 200-million-dollar gift was far too small for school needs. And by the interest on its loans, the government would be making money at states' expense.

UNDER THE PLAN, states would have to set up special agencies to handle the loans. But some states constitutions forbid such an arrangement. The three-year plan would be too brief for some of those constitutions to be changed.

Some states would have to pass special legislation to get in on the program. Some other states right now don't know whether they could participate. About eight are in position to take advantage of the loan arrangement right now.

Powerful Democrats, particularly Sen. Hill of Alabama, are for dumping Eisenhower's proposal and substituting one which would give states not the 200-million-dollar gift suggested by the President over three years but one billion in two years.

And the segregation question was raised. Since the Supreme Court has banned segregation in public schools, should the government give any state money for new schools unless segregation in them is forbidden?

THEN YESTERDAY another development was leaked out but not by anyone in the Eisenhower administration. This was it.

In 1953, at Eisenhower's request, Congress set up a 25-man commission to study federal - state problems. To do the spade work, the commission set up 14 committees, including one on education.

That committee has 15 members, including Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, commissioner of the United States Office of Education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby.

She has testified in favor of Eisenhower's plan, which almost certainly was drawn up in Brownell's office or somewhere in Mrs. Hobby's department.

THE COMMISSION committee on which Brownell served, it was learned yesterday, made a secret report last fall to the full, 25-man commission. The commission could endorse the report or ignore it and may have intended to do the latter. The report has not officially been made public.

Yesterday a reporter got a look at the 200-page document in an office from which he was not permitted to remove it. There was no indication, this newsman related, that Brownell dissented from what the report said.

What it said—contrary to the Eisenhower-Hobby endorsement of federal aid—was flatly this: Government money for school construction "is not necessary."

Cub Pack Charter Given at Banquet

Cub Pack No. 9, sponsored by B'nai B'rith, held its Blue and Gold banquet at the temple on Mt. Vernon Ave. Wednesday night when the charter for the pack was presented by Sam Babich, district representative.

Sixteen Cub Scouts 25 parents and 14 guests attending the banquet.

Pins presented were as follows: Lion, Ricky Hume. Bear, Danny Powelson and Allan Rowley. A den chief's catd was presented to Ricky Halberstein.

The Cub Pack mascot was awarded to Den One for the month of February.

TALKS WITH IKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, commander of the U.S. Army forces in the Far East, called yesterday on President Eisenhower. He declined to say what they discussed and would not comment on Tokyo reports he will succeed Gen. John Hull as U.N. commander in the Far East April 1.

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

It was Wednesday, February 23, 3:35 P.M. A short stocky built man limped into our lot in a 41 Dog — you know — banged up fenders, no brakes, sputtering motor, really on its last legs. He said he couldn't take it any longer. He had a wife and 4 kids. Car wasn't safe for his family — he had to have one of our Later Model — Guaranteed Cars. We looked around, he was a tire-kicker, hood-banger. He said he couldn't understand it — read it in the papers, heard it on the radio, boys at the shop talked about it — about what I said — He couldn't understand it — no down payment on Guaranteed, Winterized Cars. Nevertheless he soon settled on Used Car Number 304-A — 1948 BUICK 4-Door with Dynaflow priced at $445.00.

4.05 P.M. — Went for test ride — East on Center to Merchant, South to Mt. Vernon Ave., and back to Used Car Lot — He signed the order.

4.30 P.M. — Changed license tags and he drove off the lot, happy with a safe car for his family.

4:40 P.M. — Called Junk Yard and got bid on his old Unsafe Car.

4:50 P.M. — Called wrecker from our Main Garage to haul his old car to Junk Pile.

It's got getaway in cruising, too!

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY

No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three."

SAY you're held to a crawl behind a slow-moving vehicle.

Suddenly, it's safe to pass.

So you press down the pedal, and up comes a spectacular burst of instant acceleration—a power-surge that carries you out, around and back in lane in fewer seconds than you thought possible.

It's like a second getaway cutting in when you need it most—and it's due to a smart idea Buick engineers picked up from the modern airliner.

Maybe you've heard of it.

They bite into oil—but they do what the plane's propellers do in air.

They give you far better gas mileage in cruising range—they give you quick getaway and emergency acceleration when you need them. You switch the pitch just by pressing the gas pedal beyond full throttle position—and you get an instantaneous safety-surge.

This is action that you will find nowhere else on the automotive horizon. This is action that is electrifying in its response—smooth to the absolute—satisfying beyond belief.

We'd like you to sample the greatest Dynaflow yet—just to see for yourself why this is the big talk of the new-car buyers, and the envy of the industry.

The thrills are waiting for you now at the wheel of a '55 Buick. And we're waiting to show you the facts and figures on power, room, ride and price that have us booking orders at an all-time record rate. Can you make it this week?

Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.*

Will Get Tryout in Alaska

New Jet Bomber Slated for Arctic Test

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer

ELMENDORF AIRFORCE BASE, Alaska (AP)—The Air Force's newest strategic bomber, the all-jet B52, may soon be brought to Alaska for tests under brutal weather conditions their pilots would expect to encounter in case of war

There are some questions about arctic operations that cannot readily be anwered back in the States, even in atmospheric test chambers or above 30,000 feet, where temperatures may go far below zero in summer.

These questions are posed by the weather In the air, they may take form in tricky, almost unpredictable arctic storms On the ground, they are brought on by bitter, unrelenting cold.

There are reasons to believe that the all-jet B52 may possess distinct advantages over the present piston-jet B36 heavy bomber

A MAJOR problem of arctic operation, for example, is "cold soak"—the congealing of lubricants, chilling of carburetors and condensation of vapor in fuel and oil lines that result from prolonged exposure of parked aircraft to extreme temperatures.

Among other things, a jet engine needs no 'warm up" period prior to taking off The white-hot flame sets the turbine spinning almost instantly The pilot needs only to take a quick reading of instruments

Another hazard of arctic air operations is "ice fog", created when low temperatures and the dew-point of moisture coincide A single piston-engined plane making a takeoff run can create a blanket of ice fog which will hang over the runway for hours if there is no wind This closes the runway to further takeoffs or landings

But pilots believe that a jet engine has noticeably less tendency to create ice fog

ALONG WITH ground operations of planes, the weather imposes trouble for airborne planes Again jets have an advantage because they operate best at high altitudes above the layers of weather But they must take off and land through the weather layer

The mission of the 7th Weather Group with its headquarters here and a reconnaissance squadron operating from Eielson Air Force Base, in the vicinity of Fairbanks is to forecast the tricky storms that come rolling out of Siberia and down from the polar regions The group takes its reading on conditions beyond the reach of land observation stations scattered throughout Alaska 'Ptarmigan' flights of RB29s survey the weather northward to the pole "Loon" flights check the weather outward over the Aleutian chain

The 7th Weather Group is an element of a world service operated for the Air Force and Army Information from this service also is fed into an international weather forecasting system which includes Russian weather observations

So far as can be determined weather reports from the Russians are reasonably factual and accurate

INDEED THERE are examples of the Soviets going out of their way to be cooperative

Airmen chuckle over a recent incident An aircraft flying over the western fringe of Alaska lost radio contact with its home base because of atmospheric conditions The base was unable to contact the plane directly to inform the pilot that bad weather had closed the field

Russians somewhere on the eastern tip of Siberia could read the radio messages from the base plainly and knew possibly by radar the position of the plane They contacted the American aircraft and relayed the message.

Soviet neighbors in this part of the world appear to have a rigid set of rules controlling their reactions

A single American plane flying a routine weather patrol along the American side of the iron curtain seems to cause no concern across Bering strait But if a second weather plane joins the first, Red fighters go aloft

Chez Paree Attorneys To Fight Temporary Restraining Order

PORTSMOUTH Ohio (AP)—A state move has halted bingo at the Chez Paree in Wheelersburg, but a countermove is expected today

Attorney Ernest G Littleton said yesterday he will file a motion to have set aside the temporary restraining order issued against the Scioto County spot

Common Pleas Judge William D Radcliff of Pickaway County, sitting by assignment, issued the order yesterday It was asked by Asst Atty Gen Robert B Krupansky, prodded by Gov Frank J. Lausche who said there had been numerous complaints about the club

The judge said he would set a later date for hearing on whether the padlock order should be made permanent

After studying affidavits signed by state liquor agents saying they saw bingo played at Chez Paree, Judge Radcliff said he would accept the game as 'one of the lotteries against which the Legislature has spoken . . . ."

Sheriff Burl Justice last night posted a copy of the court order on a door at the Chez Paree

Judge Radcliff was given the case after Krupansky filed an affidavit of prejudice against Scioto County Common Pleas Judge Vernon Smith charging he 'is a close social friend of one of the defendants and therefore unable to sit impartially in the case '

Christians Join To Mark World Day of Prayer

NEW YORK (AP) — Today may seem no different than the rest The same sounds and movements in the streets the same routines in offices homes and workshops But something special will be going on

It may be unseen soundless and hidden in men's thoughts Or it may be whispered or spoken aloud before crowds But whatever the form millions of people around the earth today are making a great, concerted prayer

This is the World Day of Prayer and Christians in nearly every country—13 of them—and in most towns and cities in the United States—more than 20 000 of them—are joining in

At various hours of the day in various settings—in churches hospitals colleges and factories—groups will gather to bow their heads to kneel to give voice to the worldless universal language

The praying began at daybreak in the Fiji and Tonga islands just beyond the international datcline

In the United States special proclamations were issued by many mayors and governors calling attention to the observance It is sponsored nationally by the 10-million - member United Church Women

year in federal revenue The income tax cut would cost about $2 200 000 000 over a full year

In five hours of stormy debate yesterday Republicans assaulted the tax cuts as 'blackjacking . . cheap politics . . unpardonable irresponsibility They said it would increase the federal deficit already estimated at $2 400 000 000 for the year beginning July 1 and thus bring more inflation and higher prices

But Democrats retorted that Republicans pushed through even bigger tax cuts last year when the estimated federal deficit was even bigger They said the GOP tax program favored corporations and the wealthy and their tax cut would restore 'justice for the little fellow

Chairman Kilgore (D WVa) did not estimate when the hearings might be concluded He said there had not been the slightest reflection on Harlan s integrity in any of the testimony

Among those who urged confirmation of Harlan s nomination to fill the vacancy left by the death of Justice Robert H Jackson were representatives of the American Bar Assn

Of the two opposition witnesses one was a former Staten Island N Y, district attorney who told of a run-in he had with Harlan in 1951 during a gambling investigation by the New York State Crime Commission, which Harlan served as counsel

The other was Melvin K Hart president of the National Economic Council, Inc of New York City.

Youth Trapped 12 Hours in Air Shaft Rescued

NEW YORK (AP)—Screaming in pain a 20 year old youth was rescued today from a narrow air shaft down which he had plunged almost 12 stories 12 hours earlier

'Get me out of here he cried as police emergency squads battered frantically at walls of the shaft between the first and second floors

I think my arms and legs are broken they're all numb wailed the wedged youth just as the emergency workers finally broke through to free him some three hours after they began their efforts

The youth who identified himself as James Anderson wedged behind pipes in the tiny airshaft—18 inches by five feet—about 9 o clock last night

He said a companion bent on burglarizing the office and storage building at 121 123 East 4th St had forced him at gunpoint to jump through a skylight atop the building which they had reached by way of fire escapes

But instead of landing on a floor underneath the skylight, he said he hurtled downward in black space Near the bottom he stuck between some pipes and the airshaft wall

At dawn today a building worker Michael Reedy unlocked a door on the ground level and heard Anderson s muffled pleas for aid

Reedy raced to a hotel situated next door and employees there summoned police

Emergency squads went to work They guided their efforts by the sound of Anderson s voice

After breaking through at a point between the ground floor and a basement level, they found they had missed their target So they went to work again

At last they broke through near enough for a doctor to give the youth an injection to ease his pain and then at 9 20 a m —almost 12 hours from the time of his plunge —they worked him free

They found him wedged in a u position He apparently suffered a broken arm a broken leg and back injuries

As the men worked Anderson gave his story in bits and pieces

Only other traffic mishap in the city caused less than $100 total damage police estimated

School

paid what many consider a modest subsidy for every child enrolled in Ohio s public schools That is called the flat payment Then for every child in a school district found under the law to be financially pinched the state makes another payment known as additional aid

In the last two years the state s average payment per child has been $157—a statewide total of 231 million dollars

The School Survey Committee found in its study

1 The $157 average was too low to assure children in poorer districts an adequate education

2 The per head payment encouraged poorer districts to herd children in large classes to eliminate teachers salaries

3 A tuition allowance granted school districts with no high schools discouraged them from either building their own high schools or from merging with another district which already had a high school

Major Changes

The Survey Committee bill which comes before the Senate committee Wednesday makes these essential changes in the school foundation law

1 It jumps the average state payment per pupil to about $200 a year

2 It sets up the "teaching unit' of one teacher and 30 pupils as the basis on which state aid will be paid Schools could have larger classes but their state aid would be paid only on the basis of 30 pupils Larger classes then would cost instead of pay Per head' payments would be dropped

3 It requires that every school system in order to be eligible for state aid must offer 12 full years of schooling The intent admittedly is to force many school district consolidations The new program would do away with special tuition payments to districts with no high schools

4 It requires each school district to tax itself at least $1 for each $100 valuation of real estate in the district for school operating purposes

Two Major Issues

Two questions which even supporters of the bill admit will loom large in consideration of the bill to revise the foundation system

1 Where will the Legislature find the 69 million dollars the bill is estimated to require above the school appropriation for the last two years?

2 Where are the extra teachers—those required by the 30 pupil-per-class limit—coming from in face of the teacher shortage which has plagued the schools since World War II?

Democratic Gov Frank J Lausche has not commented on the bill but his earlier estimates based on the present law are that about a 30 million dollars increase in the 1953 appropriation will be needed just to take care of increased school enrollment — from 231 to more than 260 millions

The leadership of the Republican-controlled Legislature which produced the Survey Committee report and the new formula bill has not taken a position on it

The final decision will be one of the hardest of this legislative session

Adenauer marshaled his own Christian Democrats behind the plan Under it the Saar German before World War II and now virtually autonomous but tied to France economically would be put under a neutral commission

Adenauer was ready to make an impassioned appeal for the Saar plan as the price for freeing West Germany and allying it with the West

With debate running behind schedule the semifinal vote on the Saar pact originally set for today may be postponed until tomorrow The final vote will be held soon thereafter

Despite the wholesale desertions by his allies Adenauer still claims a slim majority in the 487 member Bundestag (lower house) for the Saar pact It must be accepted in the Paris treaty package if the French are to approve West German rearmament Thus the question of whether 500 000 Germans will be armed for Western defense hinges on Adenauer s victory in this fight

Vote May Be Close

The Chancellor s Christian Democrats hold 244 seats in the Bundestag—a one vote majority—and he probably can depend on the fourth party to the coalition, the German party with 15 votes The defiant Free Democrats and Refugees combined have 74 votes most of which undoubtedly will oppose the Saar pact The Socialists, main opposition group with 151 seats have fought bitterly the government s entire program to rearm West Germany before seeking talks with Russia on unifying Germany

There are three independent members of the Bundestag

In yesterday s 9½-hour debate government and opposition clashed over the biggest question of all Will ratification of the Paris treaties hinder reunification of Germany? The Socialists insist it will

But there was remarkable agreement on one point All parties joined in a demand that the Adenauer government be invited as an equal to any Western big power talks with Russia on Germany

The four government parties and the Socialists also called in a joint resolution for the immediate establishment of an Allied-West German commission to 'examine all peaceful means' of ending Germany s partition

Wayne Morse

By George Sokolsky

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon is being criticized, lampooned and cartooned for having turned himself into a Democrat after having been elected as a Republican. It would seem to me that Sen. Morse did the right thing provided that he can distinguish between what is Republicanism and what is Democratism. Such a distinction is not easy to make these days, but the senator, having once been a professor, can probably find intellectual satisfaction in the task. At any rate, he has done it.

SOKOLSKY

Winston Churchill crossed the aisle, as they say it in the British Parliament. He started as a Conservative, went over to the Liberals, and now is not only a Conservative again, but the leader of all Tories.

-:-

WHAT CHURCHILL could do with great acclaim, surely Wayne Morse can do if his conscience permits.

It is not too easy to analyze with any degree of precision what Wayne Morse has discovered about the Democrats now that he did not know when he built his political career as a Republican.

This man entered political life as a professor of law, having prepared himself for such expertness at Columbia University. As a matter of fact, Morse originated in Wisconsin and is a graduate of its famous university which has been the center of what goes by the coloration of liberalism since the days of such mighty intellects as Thorstein Veblen, John R. Commons, Richard T. Ely and others of their persuasion who did so much to alter American thinking on so many subjects.

He then studied law at the University of Minnesota, completing that phase of his education at Columbia University in 1932.

His first job was "Instructor in argumentation," believe it or not, at Wisconsin and then at Minnesota, after which he taught at Columbia and the University of Oregon, which is how he happened to be in the state whence he became a senator.

IN FACT, he was chosen dean of the Law School at Oregon. Having established a reputation for argumentation, he became an arbitrator in labor cases and landed in the Roosevelt administration as an official, that administration being Democratic beyond cavil.

However, when the day came for aspirations to the United States Senate, Wayne Morse declared himself to be a Republican and ran as such and was elected as such. The only explanation for this affiliation in 1944 can have been that in those days, despite one's private opinions and beliefs, Oregon was not ready to elect a Democrat.

In the Senate, Wayne Morse usually voted as a Democrat, of the original New Deal persuasion, his relations with the Republican party being limited to what is known as "the organization of the Senate."

AT HEART, Wayne Morse has been a consistent New Dealer of what may best be described as a Fabian socialist type. His consistency cannot be questioned because it is all in the record. Therefore, his current change is not a change at all but a rectification of the record. He is now exactly what he always has been but without protective coloration.

Nevertheless, I find it puzzling that he went to all the trouble of a re-registration. On national issues, it would take the mind of a medieval philosopher to split hairs over what is a Republican and what is a Democrat. Clear definition is, at this moment in our history, impossible.

President Eisenhower once defined Republicanism as a "moderate Progressive," a slogan which did not take well because it could not be analyzed. Besides, it was too reminiscent of Henry Wallace. So that slogan was changed to "Dynamic Conservatism," which one editorial writer hailed as a philosophy — as though a philosophy of life can be capsuled into two words.

SURELY SENATOR Walter George or Sen. Harry Byrd, redoubtable Democrats, might be called a "Dynamic Conservative" without offense and with a marked degree of accuracy.

We might as well face the facts of life. The two major American parties have ceased to be different. Each has its liberal wing which tends toward socialism; each has its conservative wing which tends toward moderation.

There is only a splinter group in Congress which would have been called conservative before Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected to the presidency. The center of affiliation is pro- or anti-Eisenhower. It has come to that, and Wayne Morse is clearly and openly and beyond doubt anti-Eisenhower.

'Explosion' in Delaware County Believed Caused by Jet Plane

DELAWARE — The mystery of an explosion which left Delaware County residents wondering yesterday was temporarily, at least, explained as a sonic blast caused by a jet plane.

Delaware County Sheriff Earl Fravel had numerous calls from worried residents at the north edge of Delaware along Route 23, reporting an explosion at about 9:30 a.m. yesterday. The blast was felt mostly in downtown Delaware and at the northern edge of the city.

One store owner reported that the blast knocked cans off the shelves, housewives, who found pictures falling from the walls and dishes from the cupboards, phoned the sheriff's department for answers; and excited students at the North School queried their teachers as to whether it was "an atomic blast."

First report of the blast was phoned to the sheriff about 9:40 a.m. by Mrs. W B Maxwell who resides on Route 23 and several other calls followed it. Mrs. Maxwell said that immediately after the explosion she heard sounds as though debris was falling upon the roof of her home. Deputy Earl Snow who answered the call said he could hear the sounds over the phone.

Deputies drove over roads in the Delaware Dam area, where the blast was believed to have originated, but found no signs of an explosion on farms where the blast was heard. Caretakers at the Delaware Reservoir said they did not hear the explosion.

One resident, Mrs. H. S. Kirkpatrick of Route 23, said she was standing in the doorway of her home when the explosion occurred and that she saw a plane traveling north immediately after the blast.

Explanation of the explosion was that a jet plane broke the sound barrier over the reservoir. Delaware Countians reported that test pilots from Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, are using the reservoir as a sighting point in dives from high altitudes and that probably a plane reached a great enough speed to cause the blast.

Gratitude

By Victor Riesel

Britain's powerful Socialist labor leaders hate us, but love our dollars.

They have just denounced us as the aggressors in the Orient and charged us with military madness. But they are as silent as museum mummies when we place millions of dollars in defense orders in their factories to keep their members on payrolls and breakfast rolls.

VICTOR RIESEL

British Socialist labor, which now is organizing a powerful worldwide pro-Soviet Chinese bloc of left-wing Socialists against us, has been loudly critical of our building 400 million dollars worth of vital bases in Spain. Yet it was perfectly willing to permit us to place millions of dollars worth of orders in British machine shops to help equip those Spanish bases. The payroll's the thing!

In mid-January we found that we needed 490 miles of pipe line for our Spanish bases. We could have produced these here at home — making needed work for some of our own working people.

WE COULD HAVE placed this order in West Germany, France or Italy. But we gave it to Stewarts and Lloyds, Ltd. in England. Thus the British firm's works at Clydesdale, Mossend and Corby had its payroll hiked by some six million dollars, in U.S. orders.

This will give six months work to the Scottish steelworkers employed by Stewarts and Lloyds. A local observer reported.

"The (U.S.) contract is a particularly welcome one to the Scottish steel industry, because alone among the principal sections of the trade, the tube-making end has not been sharing in the recent boom of orders . . ."

It is heartwarming to know that there will be Scottish housewives and children who will be eating more heartily and dressing more warmly because of these orders. But it does seem slightly ungracious of the Scottish steelworkers union to accept this work and remain silent while their political leaders blast us across the world—and organize to defeat us in the cold war with Peiping.

Only a few days ago, for example, the left-wing Socialist who was the British Labor party's economic chief when Labor was in power, said that the danger of war in the Orient sprang from "American aggression," not from the Communist Chinese. These words came from Harold Wilson, former president of the British Board of Trade, the equivalent of our Department of Commerce, in the recent British Labor government.

IN WILSON'S POWER bloc the U.S. is about as popular as a snowstorm in Miami Beach or Beverly Hills. But apparently the Wilson-Nye-Bevan group is beginning to affect the rest of the British Labor party leadership. Namely Major Clement Attlee, who will tour Canada this spring and attack U.S. Far Eastern policies.

It's Attlee's privilege to differ with us. But I'm not sure just what his privileges are when he says, as he did the other day, that British labor would like to work with the U.S. but it doesn't have to—and agreed with the Bevan-Wilson crowd's demand for immediate British talks with Russian and Chinese Communist leaders.

All this can no longer be put down to tea-time talk in British Labor party circles. Most of its top leaders would like to abandon the U.S. and make their deal with the Eastern world. It should be put on record that Attlee and some of his colleagues have been conferring secretly with other powerful European Socialist leaders for exactly five months.

They have organized a closely knit bloc against us — which won't do us any good, even though these Socialists are philosophically non-Communists. Point is that they are for the appeasement of the Soviet world.

Point is that they don't even want to bargain with the barbed-wire boys. They just want the Russians and the Chinese not really to be angry with us all and for us not to stand up against the Communists lest someone shoot off a gun somewhere.

THIS LEFT-WING Socialist bloc is virtually unknown in the U.S. where we have no Socialist movement, except for Norman Thomas, who has not exactly been consulted by his comrades abroad.

The European bloc is powerful. It controls millions of working people. There is an even chance that it may run the British government within 18 months. It controls several governments in northern Europe. It runs the all-powerful German labor movement, whose leader, Herr Ollenhauer, has met with Attlee and Socialist Swedish prime Minister Erlander.

They have talked of setting up a "third force" — which, it seems to me, means they believe us to be as evil or as dangerous a nation as the Soviet Union. But they know that they can't survive financially without us; so they continue to love our dollars and loathe us.

Jet Tester

By Hal Boyle

FARMINGDALE, N. Y.

Would you be afraid to ride in a jet airplane as it broke through the sound barrier. The public generally pictures this as a frightening physical ordeal in a plane vibrating like a sparrow caught in a tornado.

HAL BOYLE

Oscar P. ("Bud") Hass, a veteran test pilot who won his wings at 17 and now is 47 and a grandfather, says this is only one of many misconceptions about the work of the elite fliers who test the nation's war planes.

"In most airplanes today if you didn't have a speed indicator you wouldn't know you'd gone through the sound barrier," he said. "You usually don't even know when it happens."

HASS, DIRECTOR of flight operations at Republic Aviation Corp. supervises a crew of 16 pilots who test the new F84s Thunderstreak fighter bombers. The planes can exceed 650 miles an hour and carry an atomic bomb.

Bud estimates there are perhaps no more than 600 jet test pilots in America.

"It's a pretty new field," he said. "Hardly anyone in it deliberately set out to be a jet test pilot. Most of them are former armed forces fliers with combat records. There is no other place for them to get the experience."

Nice work if you can get it. The pay is good—in the $10,000 a year class. The hours are good—an average of 35 hours a month in the air, compared to 85 for a commercial transport pilot. The fliers check in at 7 a.m., and check out at 3 p.m.

THERE IS ALSO plenty of fresh oxygen and exercise on the job. The test pilot really starts his main chores at an altitude of 40,000 feet.

But no daredevils need apply. No manufacturer wants to put a hot rod flier in the cockpit of a $400,000 airplane. The test pilot is an intensely serious young man, who must serve both as a scientist and a highly paid bookkeeper as he puts a plane through its final performance check before it is turned over to the Air Force.

"When I flew my first plane, an OX5 standard, a plane similar to the old Jenny," recalled Bud, "all I had to worry about was the ignition switch and three instruments. They showed the oil pressure, the water temperature and the engine speed. No compass. No radio.

"We had a dip stick to tell us how much gas we had left, and we filled her up with five-gallon cans from the nearest auto filling station. She burned four gallons an hour, and flew at 60 miles an hour.

"A jet fighter-bomber today burns more than 1,000 gallons of fuel an hour at sea level, and the cockpit has more than 200 switches and instruments."

AFTER EXHAUSTIVE ground checks, the completed plane is taken aloft and put through 40 different flight tests, ranging from steep climbs to supersonic power dives and "slow flying" maneuvers. Then another pilot takes the plane up and does it all over again. Before accepting delivery, the Air Force then puts the plane through the tests a third time with one of its own pilots.

What is the life expectancy and the future of a jet test pilot?

"There is a limit to how long a man wants to do it as a regular routine," said Hass, who still makes a couple of flights a week himself. "After 40 or 45, most men don't want to take the physical punishment of high altitude flying. But their work gives the man all-around knowledge of airplanes, and usually they take another job in the industry."

How dangerous is it? Jet pilots have to pay an extra premium if they take out personal insurance. But Hass has never had a serious injury.

"A couple of my men have had to bail out," he said, "but we've never lost a man in 120,000 take-offs and landings in 10 years.

"The mortality rate among all test pilots is probably lower than among service fliers on ordinary day-to-day tactical missions."

Unite for Common Welfare

Management, Labor in Joint Projects

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe you think that labor and management always fight each other—just doing what comes naturally.

But more often probably than you know they forget their differences to fight together for their common welfare.

Three examples are in the day's news of each side giving a little ground in seeking more prosperity for both. They involve, variously: 1. Agreement to cut costs so a plant won't close down. 2 Willingness to forego more fringe benefits and put the money into plugging the industry's lagging product. 3. A labor-manufacturer-retailer combine to train new workmen so an industry's product will please the customers more.

The first involves the Otis Elevator plant in Yonkers, N. Y. The company said high operating costs and a dispute over local taxes would force it to close and move to the Midwest.

THE INTERNATIONAL Union of Electrical Workers, (CIO), has agreed to a plan which involves no cut in rates of pay or fringe benefits but calls for labor-management cooperation in cutting costs by conserving tools, supplies and equipment and cutting down "nonproductive practices."

The second example is in the millinery industry. It may be news to you, but the union and the hat makers think that your wife doesn't buy enough head finery. So the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union AFL has dropped its demand for higher pensions.

The higher pensions would have cost New York's hat industry alone one million dollars over the next three years. That amount will be put instead into a promotion campaign to make American women more style conscious and dissatisfied with their old headgear.

THE UNION is so pleased with its sacrifice that it hopes to persuade workers in other millinery centers to join in, and may be bring the promotion fund up to 1½ million dollars.

The third example is in the paper hanging trade. Paperhangers sniff at the "do-it-yourselfers" and say that paperhanging is a difficult and complicated job. What this country needs is more and better paperhangers, they hold, because the more the customers are pleased the more they'll buy.

So union members, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers of wall paper have formed the National Joint Paperhanging Training Committee. Object: To teach the art to apprentices and to journeymen painters as well.

On the committee are representatives of the following groups: Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America (AFL), the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America, the Retail Paint and Wallpaper Distributors of America, Inc., and the Wallpaper Council, a manufacturing association.

THESE ARE BUT THREE examples among many along the same lines. They all stem in one way or another from the growing pinch of competition in the economic scene.

It may be competition between parts of the same industry—wallpaper people would like to see more rooms papered and fewer painted.

It may be competition between industries for a bigger share of the consumer's dollar—milliners would like to see women spend more money on hats even if that means less on some other things

It may be competition between regions of the country—many companies have moved their plants because they have charged that the old sites meant higher pay scales than elsewhere, or because of labor practices they disproved of, or because of tax rates they called higher than elsewhere, or because the cost of plant extension or of installing new equipment seemed too high in the old traditional home region for their industry.

Morrow Residents Give $792 in Heart Campaign

CARDINGTON — Residents of 12 Morrow County villages which were canvassed last Sunday opened their hearts as well as their doors to volunteers who asked for contributions to carry on the work of the Central Ohio Heart Association, according to Mrs. Anna Matthes, county chairman. Contributions totaled $792.61 in the house-to-house canvass.

A grant of $5,500 from the Central Ohio Heart Association to Children's Hospital in Columbus will make possible better diagnosis of rheumatic fever in central Ohio, according to Dr. Wiley Forman, chairman of the research committee of the association, and will serve not only children who are patients at the hospital, but is available to all physicians with cardiac patients in central Ohio.

Federal Grand Jury Returns 37 Indictments

True Bills Include Charges Against 2 College Instructors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Arraignment is set March 4 for two college instructors, one from Ohio's Antioch College, indicted by a federal grand jury for declining to answer questions on alleged Communist associations.

The indictments of Robert M. Metcalf of Antioch and Lee Lorch of Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., were among 37 true bills returned here yesterday.

Charges against the two stem from hearings by a House subcommittee on un-American activities in Dayton last September.

Metcalf told the committee he once belonged to a Marxist study group but dropped out. He refused, however, to answer other questions concerning the group.

Lorch, questioned at the hearing about meetings he reportedly attended and groups he allegedly belonged to, claimed constitutional privileges and refused to answer.

In other action the grand jury indicted New Concord attorney Ralph C. Marshall on a charge of trying to influence a witness.

Marshall, who has offices in Zanesville, allegedly suggested to John Goins Jr., witness in an illegal whisky still case, to leave town and not reappear until the case was concluded.

The grand jury indicted Neil T. Graf, George Britt Griffith and Donald P. O'Donnell on charges of conspiracy to violate federal laws on transporting of stolen vehicles across state lines.

They are charged with buying salvage cars in West Virginia through Graf's Logan junkyard and transferring their titles and number plates to autos stolen in Ohio.

Francis Hunt Jr., captured in Tennessee after his escape last summer from Chillicothe Federal Reformatory, was also indicted.

The grand jury returned a four-count indictment against James W. Mitchell, 63, of Waverly, charging him with possessing a whisky still.

Charles Morrison of Hamilton was indicted on government income tax evasion charges covering 1948, 1950 and 1951. Morrison allegedly owes $3,851 in taxes for those years.

Three-Alarm Fire Routs 110 People in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A three-alarm fire in a downtown Columbus camera store last night routed 110 guests from the adjoining Reid Hotel.

The fire was reported under control after about two hours work by firefighters.

Fire Chief Walter Strickfaden said the fire apparently began near a heating plant boiler serving the hotel building and worked up through the walls to the second hotel floor. He estimated loss at $10,000.

Three firefighters, overcome by smoke, were treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

The hotel stands next to the lot where a spectacular blaze on New Year's Eve, 1953, destroyed the six - story McClure - Stritscher-Parrish Co. building.

Macaroni and Cheese Is Fine for Lent

Custard of Eggs and Milk Is a Feature of This Thrifty Main Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Are you acquainted with old-fashioned macaroni and cheese? We mean the custardy kind in which cooked elbow macaroni is baked with a full-flavored cheese, eggs and milk. If this dish was served at your house when you were very young, you'll probably pounce on this recipe. If you do not know it as an old-time standby, we urge you to follow our directions and see what you've missed.

This is the sort of macaroni and cheese our family always welcomed those years ago when my sisters and I were all at home. My mother would sometimes serve it for a thrifty supper. Then stewed tomatoes were often a flavorful accompaniment to the casserole—and they still are. Only nowadays you can get stewed tomatoes in cans all seasoned and ready to heat.

With the macaroni and cheese casserole and stewed tomatoes my mother usually served a salad. Probably hearts of lettuce with a sour-cream dressing. Nowadays, when tossed green salads are in fashion, we are likely to use a variety of greens, thin cucumber slices and French dressing.

One of the requisites of this macaroni casserole is to use a fine - flavored natural cheddar cheese. Shred the cheese on a grater that is on the coarse side because semi-soft cheese will clog a fine grater. For the size of the baking dish we specify, you will find that a square cake pan (9 by 9 by 1¾ inches deep) is fine for the water bath that helps keep the mararoni and cheese at its custardy best.

OLD FASHIONED MACARONI AND CHEESE

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces), 2 cups (packed down) grated sharp cheddar cheese (½ pound), 3 eggs, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon minced onion or 1 finely-grated small onion (pulp and juice), ¼ to ½ teaspoon salt.

Method: Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander; turn into 2 quart (ungreased) carrerole (about 8 inches in diameter and about 2 inches deep). Add cheese and mix well; fingers are best here. Beat eggs vigorously a few minutes; add milk and heat enough to combine. Stir in Worcestershire sauce, onion and ¼ teaspoon salt. Taste and add more salt if desired—depending on saltiness of cheese. Add to macaroni and cheese and mix well. Place casserole in pan of very hot water, have water come up sides of casserole as far as possible. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1½ hours or until knife inserted in center shows you custard mixture is set. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Onion may be omitted if desired, although it adds zest to this dish.

FINE FOR LENT. Old-fashioned Macaroni and Cheese.

Indian Lake Case Goes to Supreme Court for Ruling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Wilgus appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court again today in her efforts to retain a resort she operates at Indian Lake.

The Ohio Supreme Court last June 30 reversed Logan County courts and held that Mrs. Wilgus lacked a mandatory right to renew a lease on state land at the lake.

The state leased the site to Charles F. Horvath after the Wilgus lease expired in 1948.

Following the Supreme Court decision, an appellate court ordered Mrs. Wilgus to vacate within 90 days from last Jan. 4. Mrs. Wilgus continued her legal battle but the appellate court denied a request to amend her latest petition. She appealed to the high court from that decision.

Caledonia and Claridon Win in Tournament Action

Pleasant, Meeker Dropped; Winners Seek District Spot

By GARY SAMS

Favored Caledonia and Claridon earned spots in the finals of the Marion County cage tournament consolation bracket and remained in the running for a district tourney berth with wins Thursday night at the Coliseum.

Caledonia's league co-champions were treated rudely by Pleasant before achieving a 63-57 triumph after Claridon enjoyed easier sailing with a 58-44 win in the opener.

The wins sent the Donians and Hornets into action Saturday night prior to the tourney championship tilt which matches LaRue against Prospect. Third place and the final position in district play is at stake in the consolation final scheduled for 7.30 p.m.

Both Caledonia and Claridon posted their victories by pulling away in the third period.

Claridon's superior height was too much for Meeker's Trojans in the opener.

Coach Walker Huffman's underdog cagers held a 7-6 edge at the close of the opening period but the Hornets pulled ahead to stay in the early stages of the second stanza.

The lead changed hands twice at the start of the second quarter before Claridon gained a 10-9 lead which it never relinquished. The Hornets upped their lead to 14-9 before Meeker was able to score again and held an 18-12 advantage when a late rally by Meeker cut the deficit to 20-17 at halftime.

Claridon moved into a 31-20 bulge early in the third stanza and was on top by a comfortable 39-26 margin at the three-quarter stop. Coach Bus Agenstein's squad steadily widened the gap during the final period to leave Meeker no opportunity to jump back into contention.

Meeker was held to 13 field goals by the zone defense set up by the lanky defenders. However, from the foul circle the losers dropped in 18 points.

Gary Row hooped 19 points to top three other teammates who passed the double figure mark. Gail Castle came in with 12 while Bob Johnston and Larry Row each added 11.

For Meeker, high-scoring Ron Newland netted but one field goal and a total of five points. Bob Johnson paced the Meeker attack with 16 and Larry Sims garnered 13. Most of Johnson's point production came during the second half.

Caledonia was played off its feet for nearly three periods by a red hot Pleasant quintet and was forced to rally at the close of the quarter to grab the lead for keeps.

Pleasant jumped into a 16-13 bulge in the first stanza and held the lead through most of the first half.

Coach Chuck Brobeck's crew held 20-13 and 24-15 bulges in the second period before Caledonia started closing the gap. The shorter and scrappy Donians clipped the Pleasant margin to 26-23 and moments later grabbed a 29-28 lead. The squads traded baskets before Pleasant spurted out front 38-33 at intermission.

The winners crept up on Pleasant and assumed a 39-38 advantage but were forced to come from behind again before taking the lead for good. Caledonia deadlocked the score at 43-43 and then picked up a 51-43 edge at the expiration of the third period when its full court press turned Pleasant's out of bounds passes into quick baskets.

Caledonia maintained a healthy lead during most of the final quarter and led 60-50 when a Pleasant rally sliced the Donians' margin

(Turn to TOURNAMENT, Page 17)

ON ITS WAY. Pleasant's Jim Sellars lets fly with a field goal attempt during last night's narrow 63-57 loss to Caledonia in Marion County tournament consolation action at the Coliseum. Sellars was one of the three big guns in the Pandas' attack which for nearly three quarters threatened to upset the league co-champions. Getting set for rebound are Caledonia's Raymond Walker (14) and Doug Whiteamire (8).

Demaret Takes Early Lead in Houston Event

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Jimmy Demaret, who has broken par only six times in 25 rounds in the eight-year-old Houston Open, was the surprising leader today as the second round began in the winter tour's richest tournament.

Demaret took four strokes off par on the back nine yesterday to post a 6-under 66 for the 7,200-yard Memorial Park course.

Ed Furgol, National Open champion from St. Louis, was the only other player to match Demaret's 32 on the final nine and for the first time in the history of the tournament the colorful Jimmy led the field.

The 66 left Demaret one stroke ahead of Bill Trombley, of Dallas. Tied at 68 were Furgol, Jack Burke Jr., who works with Demaret at Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Wesley Ellis, young Riverside, N. J., pro making his first swing of the winter tour.

In seven previous tournaments, Demaret, 44, has finished no higher than third and has collected only $1,611 in prize money. He finished 73rd last year.

But he had his putter working beautifully yesterday.

He missed five greens on the front nine but made the turn with a two-under 34 by taking birdies on the first green with a 25-foot putt and on the eight with two putts.

Eight strokes off the pace at 74 were Dave Douglas, the defending champion from Newark, Del., and Cary Middlecoff, the pretournament favorite from Kiamesha Lake.

Rex Baxter Jr., Walker Cup alternate from the University of Houston, was the day's leading amateur.

12 Indians Balk Over Tribe Pacts

CLEVELAND (AP)—A dozen Cleveland Indians who as of today are still unsigned to 1955 contracts would make up a classy baseball team.

The lineup would include a 20-game winning pitcher and the American League batters with the highest average and most homers.

Early Wynn (23-11) would be the starting pitcher, with southpaws Bill Wight and rookie Hank Aguirre, up from Reading, sharing relief with Bob Hooper. Hank Foiles, who hit .332 at Indianapolis last year, would catch.

Bob Avila, who copped the league batting crown with .341, and Larry Doby, the home-run leader with 32, would play second base and centerfield, respectively.

At shortstop would be veteran Sam Dente; at third Rudy Regalado; and at first Dale Mitchell, normally an outfielder. Wally Westlake and Dave Philley would round out the outfield.

The key three in the group that will become holdouts unless they sign before next Tuesday at Wynn, Avila and Doby. All want raises, along with Regalado.

Mitchell, Westlake, Philley and Hooper reportedly are objecting to cuts.

And the other four — Dente, Wight, Foiles and Aguirre—are objecting to "provisional" contracts which would be replaced by regular contracts if they are not cut from the 40-man squad during spring training.

Local Mermen In Meet Today And Saturday

Most YMCA pool records are expected to fall Saturday when the Toledo YMCA engages the Marion Y in a swimming meet at the local pool at 2:30 p m.

The Toledo team swept all three age divisions in the last meeting of the teams but Coach Foster expects to spring a few surprises that could make the meets very close.

Leading the Toledo intermediate team is Jerry Lemke, All-American high school swimmer, who currently holds the Ohio-West Virginia area records and championships in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle sprints. The Marion team with four straight wins and a 7-2 record will be bidding for an upset.

One of the most outstanding junior swimmers in the United States is Chet Jastemski, ranked tops in both the breaststroke and freestyle by the Amatuer Athletic Union for his age group. Jastremski holds the records and champion ship in the area championships, having won both the breaststroke and individual medley last year. Marion's juniors missed defeating the Toledo junior's by only a few feet in their last outing and will be working for an upset.

The prep division will see another All - American swimmer in Marty Mull, best in the 12 and under rankings of the AAU for breast stroke and freestyle events. Marion's prep team will be outclassed since most of its best swimmers will be pulled up to strengthen the junior team. The Marion team has one win and five losses but will have eight veterans back next season as most are only 11 years old.

Admission for the meet will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for students, proceeds to be used to present awards to the boys for the seasons work. Tonite the Junior team will host Sandusky Junior High School.

Olentangy Defeats Elm Valley 65-64 in Delaware Tournament

DELAWARE—Olentangy moved into the championship game with Big Walnut tonight with a narrow 65-64 win over Elm Valley last night at Delaware Willis High School. Last night's victory advanced the Braves to a berth in the Central District Tournament and eliminated the Aces.

Jeff Inglish led the Olentangy squad to the win with his most outstanding performance of the campaign. He pumped in 16 points but was even more valuable for his rebounding and all-around floor work.

Bradley Cox topped the winners' scoring with 17 markers and Don Viers hit for 14. Viers' last goal was the winning point and came just as the final buzzer sounded. He cut loose with a long shot after Hopper had stolen the ball from Elm Valley. He had cut his mates' deficit to a single point with 20 seconds left when he scored on a fast break after another steal. The Aces were holding a seven-point advantage with two minutes left in the game.

Featherweight Title at Stake In TV Feature

This is the skinny, 28-year-old champion's first title defense in 41 months and he's a surprisingly low 7-5 favorite to beat the 31-year-old ex-railroad cook from Hartford, Conn.

On their records, Sandy (139-12-2) should be at least 3-1 over Davis (59-47-2), the "losingest" challenger of all time. If he wins, Red Top will be the oldest guy ever to capture the 126-pound diadem.

Maybe the odds are so small because virtually everyone has forgotten there's such a thing as a featherweight king. The National Boxing Assn., as a matter of fact, says there isn't. It lifted the New Yorker's crown for not defending it within the required six-month period but didn't name a successor. Tonight's victor, however, will be recognized as champ by the NBA.

There will be $30,000 added to the pot tonight from the radio-television receipts. A crowd of some 7,500 will pay about $30,000 at the gate. Saddler gets 40 per cent and Davis 20.

$25 Deductible Hospitalization Plan Approved

CANTON Ohio (AP)—Stark County Hospital Service Inc , which serves 25 000 subscribers in five counties will be the first Ohio Blue Cross plan to try $25 deductible hospitalization insurance

Yesterday the state division of insurance approved a request that a $25 deductible clause be introduced into the 30 day standard group policies sold to subscribers in Stark Tuscarawas Wayne Carroll and Holmes counties About 125 000 of the 205 000 Blue Cross subscribers in the five counties are affected

For a $4 60 monthly rate 30-day coverage is provided with the subscriber paying the first $25 of his hospital bill himself This deductible plan, similar to that used for automobile collision insurance was opposed by local labor leaders a month ago at a hearing

The $4 60 rate compares with a $5 50 a-month rate for 70-day coverage for a family on the basis of semiprivate accommodations Subscribers who do not want the $25 deductible will be able to switch to the higher-rate plan

Convict Fights Extradition in Columbus Case

Fled Oklahoma Jail -- 35 Years Ago; Asks Lausche To Intervene

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bill Freeman, who fled an Oklahoma jail 35 years ago after a manslaughter sentence, asked Gov. Frank J. Lausche at an extradition hearing today to let him stay in Ohio.

Freeman said his return would work a hardship on the 77-year-old mother he supports in a rest home near Jackson, Mich., and a daughter, 16, he helps support in Newark, Ohio.

Joseph J. Scanlon, Lausche's clemency secretary, took the case under study.

The real name of Freeman, a Columbus cab driver for about 15 years, is Leon S. Mohrlock. He is 57 and wears an artificial leg.

Mohrlock was convicted of first degree manslaughter in the shooting of a restaurant owner in an oil field boom town near Duncan, Okla, in 1920.

He escaped before serving any of his 12-year sentence and fled to Mexico. He said he had lived in Columbus and for a short time in Newark since 1929. The wife who divorced him in 1940 has since remarried.

Asked at the hearing if she felt her former husband should be returned to Oklahoma, Mrs. Hugh A. Friel of Newark said she did not. She related that Freeman "has been a wonderful father" to their daughter and feared the girl would lose interest in maintaining a high scholastic ranking if anything happened to him.

Other witnesses testifying to Freeman's good behavior included Hugh Friel of Newark and Arthur B. Spintler, operator of the Columbus cab company which employs Freeman.

Attorney Gale R. King of Columbus, Freeman's counsel, asserted papers accompanying Oklahoma's extradition request are deficient.

But Thomas R. Lloyd, assistant Ohio attorney general, said they appeared sufficient to warrant extradition.

Freeman surrendered to authorities last December. King said a relative tipped police that Freeman's real name was Mohrlock and he was a fugitive.

Freeman said he had been in real trouble only once since he came to Ohio. That was in 1931 when he was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary for grand larceny. The charge stemmed from the loss a diamond ring allegedly stolen by a group including Freeman at a cock fight near Lancaster, Freeman told Scanlon. He served 16 months in prison.

SEEKS RETIREMENT

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's oldest city employee, 78-year-old Fire Capt. John Muench, applied for retirement yesterday. In his 55 years with the fire department, "Cap" Muench never was late for work and never missed a day's work because of illness.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Broadens the Actors

NEW ORLEANS — I have no very clear idea why I came all the tne way to New Orleans to see the Comedy Hour which I could have seen just as distinctly in New York. But then, I don't know what the Comedy Hour is doing down here either.

JOHN CROSBY

That is the big craze in television at the moment, going on location. You leave the big beautifly-equipped studios in New York or Hollywood and so someplace where they haven't any lights or any cameras or any know-how. This is what is known as doing it the hard way.

Somebody over at NBC has got a bad case of wanderlust. So he dispatches Arlene Francis to San Francisco or Steve Allen to Miami or Gordon MacRae down here. It's a shame they haven't got a cable across the Pacific or sure as you're alive they'd have Dave Garroway in Tokyo.

THIS IS A MAD, gay, infectiously warm and wonderful city, especially at Mardi Gras time, but I'm not at all sure they couldn't reproduce the madness, gaiety and warmth just as well from Radio City and maybe a little bit better.

The New Orleans Comedy Hour was plagued, as was the one from Miami, by uncertain lighting and treacherous camera conditions. The Old Absinthe House from which part of the show came and the Court of Two Sisters where the rest of it came from were never designed as television studios, and their builders would have been greatly astonished if they had looked in the other night.

These two ancient and colorful citadels of fun and drink were festooned with cameras and cables and monitors and Bill Morrow who is mildly decorative in his own odd way.

New Orleans at Mardi Gras time is just one great big traffic jam under the best of conditions, and then to dispatch, on top of everything else, a great big show like this one is a lovely way to compound the confusion.

THE FRENCH QUARTER'S old and very narrow streets were clogged not only with the usual merrymakers and cars but also with mobile television trucks and actors. As a matter of fact, one truck blocked off the street so the bakery couldn't get through and Owen Brennan's Vieux Carre ran out of French bread, an unthinkable thing.

Ah, well, as someone remarked, it's nice that NBC recognizes there are more than two cities in America. And all this travel is very broadening for the actors. If Gordon MacRae ever loses his voice, he can always get a job as a travel editor. By the end of this year, he'll have been everywhere.

As TV shows go, the Comedy Hour was no great shakes. This is the city where the blues came from, and this fact was properly and appropriately celebrated by Mr. MacRae, Louis Armstrong and Peggy Lee, including such old favorites as "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans," "I've Got a Right to Sing The Blues," "Basin Street Blues" and "The Birth of The Blues."

If you like Dixieland jazz — and I do — you probably had a fine time, though maybe wondering a little why the folks came such a long way to do it.

THERE WERE QUITE a few shots of the crowd in the French Quarter — if you enjoy watching people waving. And there was one shot of the king of something or other going somewhere on his flat, a sight you can see at almost any hour of the day or night around here.

But the wonderfully impish and weird costumes and the general air of mania which infect the town are pretty hard to capture on a small black and white screen. What the Mardi Gras calls for is Cinemascope and full color, or better yet, just come down and look at it yourself.

Travel, I always say, is something that ought to be personally experienced, not done vicariously via television. However, I don't expect NBC to pay attention to this bit of advice. On March 6, the Comedy Hour will come from the superliner United States and the week after that from Hollywood. That Gordon MacRae, he does get around.

SHOT BY CAR

RUSHVILLE, Neb. (UP)—Gene Scott reported to authorities he was "shot" by his car door during a recent hunting trip. Scott said he was getting out of his snowbound car when a gust of wind blew the door shut. The door caught his coat pocket, discharging a .22 caliber rifle shell. Scott, struck in the abdomen, walked to the nearest farm home.

MOOSE MONEY

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) — A resolution was filed in the legislature to reimburse farmer Merle Pitman of Chatham $250 damages for inuries suffered by his cows when a wild moose attacked them.

People are always worrying about this country exhausting its natural resources. Pessimists had predicted that by now we would have run out of coal, iron, petroleum and old ladies who remember Abraham Lincoln.

GASOLINE ALLEY By Frank King

Judy, what do you know of Army's background?
He graduated from high school, spent two years in the army.
He took to truck driving to make some money, and that's it.
Has he any aspiration beyond that?
He likes music and wants to be a musician, Mother.
Fiddler in a jazz band, perhaps?
To start, maybe. But he'd like to be a Carnegie Hall violinist.
Well, an impossible ambition is better than none at all.
